

[tiny]
poetry

readings by local poets in an intimate setting. at electric angel /the tiny gallery with a big heart to coincide with the exhibition view from the back: journal of a surf trip by kathryn welford.

august 12—felix hodcroft

august 19—mark richardson

august 26—john w clarke

september 09(tbc)—james koppert

www.electricangelgallery.co.uk admission free but places are very, very limited and by ticket only — available in person from the gallery monday-friday 9.30—5.30 (ish).

all at 8.30pm for 30 mins.

drinks provided/bring a bottle.

Felix Hodcroft is a member of Scarborough Poetry Workshop, with whom he writes, performs and works to promote appreciation of powerful, accessible poetry. His Life after Life after Death was recently published by Valley Press. His performance will include space for a short open mic slot.

Mark Dickinson's poetry has appeared or is forthcoming in Shearsman, Stride, Intercapillary Space, Great Works the Cordite Review and will feature in the upcoming anthology Radical Landscape Poetry: The Ground Aslant edited by Harriet Tarlo.

John Wedgwood Clarke is UK and Ireland poetry editor at Arc Publications and director of the Beverley Literature Festival and Bridlington Poetry Festival. He teaches poetry on the part-time creative writing degree course at the University of Hull.

James Koppert anarchist Hip Hop soldier, tearing through with a passion, challenging the world with the mic.

...it's a Coast thing whitby • scarborough • filey